

2017 Teachers 2 Teachers Trips to the Dominican Republic

June 21 – 29, 2017 & June 28 – July 6, 2017

This is our 5th anniversary for our Teachers 2 Teachers Trips. These trips are a way for American teachers to share their wealth of ideas and information with Christian and public schools teachers in the Dominican Republic. Dominican teachers do not have the resources American teachers have available to them. These teachers face some of the same challenges and problems when they work with their students. This is a wonderful way to better equip Dominican teachers.

The seminars are set up so each trip will conduct 2 two day seminars in 2 separate locations. There will be a couple of down days between the two seminars to visit some orphanages, worship in a Dominican church, tour a historical area and enjoy the culture. We will spend the last day and a half at a resort to wind down and talk about next year.

Subjects requested include teaching the basics; reading, writing, science, mathematics, teaching younger children, teaching children with disabilities, discipline in the classroom, administration, etc. You get the idea, if you have knowledge of a subject, there are always some teachers that would like hear what you can teach them. We can also use Spanish speakers willing to translate for the group. Spouses are welcome, too. We will find ways for them to help.

In the first 4 trips, we have taught over 320 teachers that teach over 6,400 children. These seminars are making a big difference. These trips are life-changing for those that go and for those we serve. We hope you will consider joining us and we hope you will invite others to join you.
